Volume 1
3/20/19

Welcome to the first ever volume of the Kittysburg Newsletter! Want to know what's going on in Kittysburg? Well, you can find out right here!

You may have noticed that the site has had a few updates lately. I can guarantee you, there's plenty more coming real soon!

One of the upcoming updates to the site involves the characters, and it doesn't just involve adding new characters to the characters page. The ones who are already on the characters page will be getting new pictures! Here's a pic of Pixie to show you what I'm talking about. (And yes, she's wearing a headband now.)

There's also going to be a couple new games added to the site shortly. One is a platform game starring Bombay, and the other is a puzzle game where you have to help Bombay and India find a box for T.C.'s detective agency.

Hope you enjoy this sneak peek of what's to come!
