Volume 4
5/3/19

Welcome to volume 4 of the Kittysburg Newsletter! Well, it looks like I'm gonna be putting these out every other Friday now. So if you look for the next one on the 15th, you'll be a couple days early.

So what's going on in Kittysburg? Well, the characters page has yet to be split into separate pages for each character. But when I do that, I'm going to add the three characters who don't have info on the characters page but do have their pictures on the main page. Namely, the three pictured on the right.

As for the games on the website, I don't have anything to report on those. But that'll change in volume 5, so stay tuned for that!
